2-YEAR TRUCE ASKED IN RAILROAD FEUD

Police Arrest N. Jersey Man For Slayings

Mother-In-Law, Wife Slain, Girl Abducted By Negro

LINDEN, N.J. (AP) — Richard (Teddy) Coleman, who, police say killed two women and abducted a teen-aged girl, was arrested early today near Newark Airport. Minutes before, the girl he had held captive for more than six hours was found in nearby Elizabeth. Police said Coleman permitted her to leave the car near a service station. The girl hailed a passing police car and was taken to a hospital. Her condition was not known immediately.

Police said, however, that the girl was bleeding from several scalp lacerations and she apparently had been raped.

Coleman offered arresting officers no resistance. As police cars surrounded the fugitive's car, he climbed out and meekly placed his hands over his head, police said.

The car Coleman was driving was spotted by an Elizabeth policeman. He radioed for assistance and gave pursuit. Newark police joined the pursuit and Coleman was apprehended.

Police said the 32-year-old Negro shot and killed his wife and sister-in-law and wounded his brother and two other persons Friday.

His hostage was Mary Kaminski, 18, a white girl Coleman abducted from her home after holding her family at bay with two pistols and a rifle for four hours.

Coleman fled with the girl in a 1963 auto owned by Mary's father. Coeman became the object of a 13-state manhunt.

Police said Coleman slew his wife Millie, 37, and Mrs. Ruby Coleman, his 43-year-old sister-in-law, after a police guard protecting his wife at her request had departed.

Millie Coleman had fought with her husband and, after threatening to leave him, stayed at the home of friends. She asked for police protection Friday while she

Holiday Death Toll Behind Expectations

By The Associated Press

The death toll on the country's roads and highways continued to lag behind the pre-Independence Day weekend estimate today, and optimistic National Safety Council officials said guardedly that the total could fall below 500.

The traffic fatality total reached 282 as the four-day holiday weekend went through its third day.

The council had estimated that 550-650 persons would die in traffic accidents. The death count began at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday and will end at midnight Sunday.

"The total is running substantially behind both our estimate and behind the 1961 four-day Independence Day weekend," an NSC spokesman said.

"It seems that if the slow trend continues, the toll could end with less than 500 deaths," he said. "The death toll is running much lower than we expected."

The official warned, however, that millions of automobiles are expected on the roads Sunday as the homeward rush begins.

The record for a four-day Fourth of July weekend was established in 1961 when 509 persons were killed.

Five persons were killed near Springfield, Ohio, in a car-truck collision. In Lansing, Mich., five persons perished when a car and truck collided.

The U.S. Weather Bureau reported rain in many portions of the country today with only the extreme coastal states enjoying dry weather.

A field of corn planted by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Berger of Damascus turned out to be much taller than traditionally knee-high by the Fourth of July. Shown above are Mary Curtis, 18, left, and Nancy Morrow, 16, who make their home with the Berbers and who are very proud of "daddy's corn." The girls measured two fields on the Hans Farm managed by the Berbers Thursday and came up with an average of four feet, two inches without stretching a leaf. The farm is on Route 543 opposite West Branch School. Mary is a graduate of the school and Nancy is a student there.

Soviets, Chinese Still At Odds

Ideological Talks Continue In Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — High-powered Soviet and Chinese Communist delegations headed for a villa in the Lenin hills above Moscow today and secret talks in their grim struggle over how to bury the West.

The seven-man Chinese delegation arrived first at the villa, normally used only for receptions and rarely for high-level talks.

At the same time Mikhail Suslov, the chief Soviet negotiator, left the Kremlin for the Lenin hills.

Only the most meagre report of Friday's organizational meeting was published in the Soviet press this morning. So far Peking has not made public any report on what happened in the opening round.

But Red China kept up its blistering attack on the Soviet stand today with the Moscow ideological talks well under way.

A New China News Agency report monitored in Tokyo said: "It is not difficult to see that those who talked loudly about 'general complete disarmament' being the only way to world peace and those who spread the illusion that the imperialists would agree to disarm of their own free will, were deceiving the peoples and diverting

Unions Expected To Refuse Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz is making a big effort to switch the railroad work rules dispute away from a threatened strike and onto the kind of a track that led to peace in the steel industry.

He has called for a decision Sunday on his unusual proposal for a temporary agreement, a two-year truce and study groups modeled after the steel industry's Human Relations Committee to search for a permanent solution.

The railroads and five operating unions—who have been fighting over work rules for four years—indicated they will study the matter thoroughly and give their answer in Wirtz's office Sunday.

That the unions' answer may be "no" was indicated Friday night in St. Louis when H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, labeled the proposal "unacceptable."

Gilbert said he spoke for himself and not the union, but added: "I don't see how the union can agree to it."

If the proposal is rejected, President Kennedy probably will send to Congress early next week emergency legislation to head off a nationwide railstrike, probably calling for compulsory arbitration of the dispute.

The board called for elimination of the firemen's jobs by attrition, with each job subject to negotiation, and establishment of a system of arbitration for non-engine crew makeup.

I the 20-day negotiating period proposed by Wirtz, efforts would be made to clear up details left vague by the presidential board. This period would begin Sunday, James J. Reynolds authorized to make a binding decision for a "temporary" two-year contract on each point which was not settled during the 20 days.

Wirtz told a news conference Friday he had suggested that both sides agree to the terms laid down in May by a presidential emergency board for settlement of what he called "the two most currently active issues in this conflict"—removal of 40,000 firemen from freight and yard trains and the makeup of train crews other than those in the engine cab.

70 Million People At Work In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, the United States has 70 million jobs—almost two decades after Henry A. Wallace stirred a fuss by predicting 60 million.

The Department of Labor reports that the 70 million total was reached in June. U.S. employment passed 60 million 15 years ago.

Wallace, vice president when he made his prediction, figured 60 million jobs would be the result of full employment.

Statistics released Friday showed that the 70 million jobs did not mean full employment.

Teen-agers looking for jobs pushed the unemployment total to 4.8 million.

Harold Goldstein, spokesman for the department, said employment in June swelled to 70.3 million, the increase in unemployment, fell from 5.9 per cent in May to 5.7 per cent in June. This rate always is seasonally adjusted.

Wallace, now a farmer in South Salem, N.Y., wrote a book titled "60 Million Jobs" when he was vice president. It was published in 1945. The Democrats, who nominated Harry S. Truman to replace Wallace as the vice presidential candidate, used that slogan in the campaign of 1944.

Wallace's idea was that the United States, after World War II, should mobilize its resources to keep full employment. There were predictions that the United States, as it dismantled its wartime machinery, would see a good deal of unemployment.

"The essential idea," Wallace wrote in a magazine article, "is that the federal government is ultimately responsible for full employment and can discharge its responsibility only by planning in advance to synchronize all of its programs with the programs of

Captive Nations Proclamation Given by JFK

President Reports On Tour, Says East, West Bonds Tight

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy has followed up a Soviet-American exchange of sentiments for world peace with a proclamation upholding the "just aspirations" of captive nations to be free.

A similar proclamation by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower once sent Soviet Premier Khrushchev into a red rage.

Furthermore, Kennedy said Friday night in a summary of his 10-day trip to four European countries that he had found a deep conviction in "the freedom of man" as well as in common goals, the unity of the West and the necessity for peace.

It was with Khrushchev that Kennedy, spending a long weekend on Cape Cod, traded American Independence Day greetings and talk of peace.

The Soviet leader had offered Kennedy and the American people Fourth of July wishes of peace and prosperity and said that in this nuclear and space age, "the maintenance of peace has indeed become a vital need for all mankind."

To the man whose peaceful co-existence policy has no appeal to Communist China, Kennedy said in a reply made public Friday that "the world has long passed that time when armed conflict can be the solution to international problems. That is why I share your desire . . . that we move forward with understanding toward the solution of those key problems which divide us. I am hopeful that world peace, just and lasting, can be achieved."

The "Captive Nations Week, 1963" proclamation was authorized and requested by Congress. The legislators adopted a resolution in 1959 asking that the third week in July of that year be designated Captive Nations Week and that the President issue a similar proclamation yearly "un-

Man Admits To Printing $4 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A college printing press operator has been charged with running off millions in bogus money in the biggest counterfeit case ever handled by the U.S. Secret Service.

Donald J. Carothers, 21-year-old print shop employee at Alameda State College in Hayward across the bay from San Francisco, was said by officers to have admitted turning out more than $4 million in fake $20 and $50 bills.

Arrested Friday, Carothers was charged with manufacturing counterfeit currency. Three other men have been arraigned since the ring was broken Wednesday night, and at least three others are being hunted.

Some $2.4 million has been recovered, with another $500,000 unaccounted for.

Carothers, who was paid $2.25 an hour for his college job, was quoted by police as saying "I had a key to the place to work at night on overtime jobs. I was to get $4,000, but I wanted real money, not this bogus."

Lt. George Kelly of the Hayward police department reported the young married man told him he ran off the counterfeit bills since Christmas, but much of it was ruined.

College President Fred Harclerod was shocked by the news of Carothers' arrest.

Secret Service Area Chief Tom Hanson called the fake currency of "very good quality. It had very good paper — a rag bond — and the plates, apparently, were excellent."

Social Events In Lisbon Area

By ETTA MAE ALEXANDER

The 30th annual McPherson family reunion was held Thursday at Firestone Park, Columbiana.

Sixty-two descendants of the late Silas and Elizabeth Ellen McPherson were seated for the picnic dinner of favorite family foods, from recipes, handed down for generations, and served on a red and white checkered tablecloth.

In recognition of the national Freedom Day several family bells were rung. Following group singing of America, Mrs. John Ewing gave the invocation.

James Ewing, president, presided at the business meeting. Correspondence from absent members was read by Mrs. Andrew Masowis of Cleveland, secretary.

Mrs. Guy Frantz, historian, reported two new additions in the family tree — a daughter, Lori Lynn to Mr. and Mrs. Fred McPherson of Dover and a son, Dale Allen, to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hull Jr. of Alliance. A coat worn by the late Silas McPherson at his wedding 84 years ago was an interesting display.

Miss Nettie McPherson was elected president of the next reunion, July 4, 1964, with Hugh McPherson of North Georgetown as vice president and Mrs. Harmon Handwork, secretary and treasurer.

Arrangements for the dinner and table decorations were in charge of Mrs. Floyd Hull Jr. of Alliance. Miss Nettie McPherson and Mrs. Guy Frantz, both of Lisbon, were also present.

THE PAST PRESIDENT'S Parley of the American Legion Auxiliary's annual picnic, which was scheduled Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Albert Webber of W. Maple St., has been postponed until Aug. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shaw and son Joe of Jerome St. attended the centennial celebration of Gettysburg, Pa., for the past several days. The re-enactment of Pickett's Charge and a pageant, presented by the U. S. Navy, entitled "The Story of the U. S. Flag," were highlights of Wednesday's program.

David Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Miller of Fairfield Road, is attending the "Rolling Y camp" at Carrollton, with his cousin, Ray Hephner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hephner of Maple Heights. Ricky Miller is visiting his cousins, Heather and Hilly Hephner.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis McCord of N. Market St. visited her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Martin of Canton.

Robert Regal of Tucson, Ariz., formerly of Salem, will present a program of sacred music at the 7:45 p.m. service Sunday in the First Assembly of God Church.

A baritone soloist, Mr. Regal has been guest artist on radio and television in the Tucson-Phoenix area and has appeared with the Tucson Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Paul Whiteman. He now devotes his time exclusively as soloist and music director for the Ted Roe Evangelistic Assn. and travels in special crusades and concerts.

Rev. Paul Taylor is pastor of the Salem church.

Robert Regal of Tucson, Ariz., formerly of Salem, will present a program of sacred music at the 7:45 p.m. service Sunday in the First Assembly of God Church.

A baritone soloist, Mr. Regal has been guest artist on radio and television in the Tucson-Phoenix area and has appeared with the Tucson Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Paul Whiteman. He now devotes his time exclusively as soloist and music director for the Ted Roe Evangelistic Assn. and travels in special crusades and concerts.

Rev. Fred Shiltz Takes Lisbon Methodist Pastorate

LISBON — The Rev. Fred A. Shiltz, new pastor of Lisbon and Elkton Methodist churches, occupied the parsonage at 336 E. High St. this week.

He and his family moved in from Barnesville (First Methodist Church) as the Rev. William L. Brown and family moved to a new charge at Norwalk.

The new pastor and his wife, the former Emily Jones of Columbus, met on the campus at Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky. He earned his bachelor of arts degree at Asbury, and his bachelor of divinity degree at Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore.

Mr. Shiltz has a Steubenville district job immediately. He is district missionary secretary, a post he held in the Cambridge district.

He served pastorates at Batesville, Hendrysburg, Sonora, Byessville (Main Avenue Methodist), and Shreve before the Barnesville assignment.

Mr. Shiltz was born in Ravenna when his father, the Rev. Emmett E. Shiltz, was pastor of the Macedonia Methodist Church.

He has been in the ministry 32 years, one year longer than his brother, the Rev. Herbert B. Shiltz who, before transfer to Hillsboro last month, spent all his pastorate in the north east Ohio conference. His last pastorate was Westlawn Methodist Church, Akron.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shiltz have two daughters, Martha, a registered nurse who took her training at Aultman Hospital School of Nursing in Canton, and Ellen, who will be a freshman in Lisbon high school this fall. Both are at home. A son, the Rev. George Shiltz, is serving his first pastorate at Powhatan Point Methodist Church.

ELKTON GROUP TO MEET

ELKTON — The Elkton Home Demonstration Group will have a picnic at noon Wednesday at the roadside park near Madison Church on Route 30. Members are to take a coverdish, beverage and table service. Children are invited.

MRS. MARGARET BEES of New Castle, Pa. and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hall of Canfield called in the home of Mrs. Della Hall.

Mrs. Ann Auday has returned home after vacationing with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tucker of Pittsburgh.

Sgt. and Mrs. Leonard Johnson of Fort Hood, Tex. visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson.

Dr. Charles E. DeVol of the Taiwan Friends Mission on Formosa, will speak at the First Friends Church for the Sunday morning worship at 11.

Dr. DeVol, who is home on furlough, was born in China where his parents were serving as missionary doctors. He spent his early years in China. He received his college training in Marion (Ind.) College, and his Ph.D. degree in botany from Indiana University.

Dr. and Mrs. DeVol first went to China as missionaries under the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends in 1926. They served four terms in China, three of which were interrupted by wars. He was a prisoner in a Japanese Internment Camp during World War II. When the Communists took over in China, he returned to the States and took up his work in teaching in Marion College. In 1957 he went to Formosa (Taiwan) where he has served as superintendent of the Taiwan Friends Mission.

Salem Woman Aids In Saving Baby

Anthony Esposito of Norwalk, Conn., who was visiting a neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. James Baker of Youngstown, is credited with saving the life of their 8-week-old daughter, Connie Sue, Tuesday when the grandmother, Mrs. Grace Scott of E. 11th St., Salem, who was baby-sitting, noticed the child had stopped breathing. Summoned by Mrs. Scott, Mr. Esposito administered mouth to mouth resuscitation until the baby breathed again.

At the hospital where the infant was rushed, doctors said a mucus block had been the cause of the breathing block. The child is in satisfactory condition.

KIDS who fool in class sometimes are called "clowns," but in the Moscow School of Circus Arts everyone is trying to become a clown. The school teaches cascading, tight-rope walking, juggling and other circus skills. The school, which has a student body of 400 kids and a faculty of 56, has to turn away many would-be performers. The school has trained some two thousand performers in its 37 years. The children come for the seven-year course, during which they continue their regular school work. The adults attend one course that runs three to four years. Each student must show ability in all aspects of clowns.

Help Is On the Way

A professor of psychology at the University of California, Los Angeles, may have good news for you, dear readers.

If you're between 30 and 60 and get to wondering whether, let Dr. Milton E. Hahn tell you about it in his own words:

"There is a crucial period in the lives of most of this group when professional psychological help would be of value. This time usually is between the 40th and 60th birthdays, when the personal ladder ends at the ceiling. It is a time for stock-taking, when doubts may creep in. Has the last chance to change or progress gone by?"

What happens when an ordinary guy knows he is not going to surge ahead to become president of the United States, president of the company, not even president of his Sunday school class?

What happen to women whose career as wives and mothers are dead-ended, with nothing to look forward to but baby-sitting, further broadening of the middle-age spread and perhaps someday getting tapped as corresponding secretary of the Poplar Avenue Sewing and Slander Circle?

What is next on the agenda for people with nothing to look forward to but the final payments on 20-year mortgages and the art of mastering full lower dentures?

What is there to feel bushy-tailed about when tomorrow is just another day, next week another week, next month, another month and next year another year?

How do men and women in an affluent society face up to that moment of truth when they realize they are never going to catch up to the carrot, whereas the stick is in daily contact with their fundaments?

Where do people look for comfort when they understand what the Pennsylvania Dutchman was talking about when he signed, "Too soon old, too late smart?"

Who has anything to add to the sizeup that goes like this: Everything worth looking forward to has happened; only the unpleasant happenings still lie ahead?

People like this are not mentally sick. They are normal. But Dr. Hahn thinks they need help not to change the picture but convince them they can live with it.

Fact is, they do live with it. They kick it, throw stones at it, make fun of it, resent it, try to touch it up and try to shut it out of their minds. But they do learn to live with it. All Dr. Hahn has to say is that psychology might speed up the process of becoming reconciled.

It's as good as done doc. See you on your next open date. It will be seven years from now, because the waiting line was a mile long before this reached you? That's OK. Just as long as help is on the way.

Privileges

By Truman Twill

Having come to political maturity in an era when presidential prospects still boasted of being born in log cabins, I was fascinated by John F. Kennedy's return to his family's humble beginnings in County Wexford, Ireland.

Even with the sprucing up at Duganstown where his great-grandfather was born and at New Ross, where he took passage for the New World, poverty showed through. You could almost find yourself with a full heart for the plight of a president whose ancestors lived in surroundings so humble they would have been called rural slums in the United States. In Ireland, they're still in use.

But then you remembered that the young man being "welcomed home" never had seen the place before and that what had been going through your mind was the old log-cabin-to-the-White-House theme. It was a timely visit to the Kennedy family's humble Irish origins.

It reminded all of us of our own origins. Take me.

If the truth came out, as it would if I became a candidate for president of the United States, I was born with a mouthful of silver spoons and a double fistful of 10-carat diamonds.

My family could afford the best and I had it — 24 hour nursemaid, premium milk from sacred cows, a bicycle to develop my spindle legs, Irish mails for my arms, my own flagstone sidewalk to skate on and my own fishing hole to fish in.

Nothing that could add to my pleasure was overlooked. There were prize-winning dogs to play with, $1,000 cats and playmates imported from all parts of the world, to give things a cosmopolitan touch.

All the joys of childhood, hidden and forbidden, were on tap — camping, smoking, being in pageants stealing fruit and chickens reading good books, reading bad books teasing girls — life was one continuous blast of fun and frolic.

Then there were these lessons in the value of money. Excellent training. No child of privilege should be deprived of such a boon — real paper routes to peddle, rows of vegetables to weed and strawberries to pick, corn to hoe. Each lesson as it came was two-edged.

Besides the money, there was the chance to see how the world made its living; to see how people who worked for their living made a living for the world. And there was another lesson — tolerance.

When you work all day beside somebody who gets as pooped and sweaty as you do and you suffer together, there's nothing to discriminate about. You're brothers. And when on top of that the other fellow shares his lunch and helps you over the rough spots, you don't notice that his skin is different.

The skins of people who toil together are just one color — dirty.

It was great, having all these privileges as a child. You can't blame John F. Kennedy for wanting to see how things were when Kenedys had them, too.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill: you occasionally mention someone you have met who made a lasting impression on you for some reason or other, and at this time I would like to tell you about a few persons I have met who have stuck in my memory.

They may not be stranger than fiction but they are almost.

First of all, there were two police chiefs in widely separated towns who had never driven an automobile. I found this hard to believe at first, but inquiry disclosed they had started out in the horse-and-buggy days and just never got around to driving cars.

Both of the chiefs were along in years. When they had started out as policemen and had to pick up someone, they used a horse and buggy, sometimes rented from a livery stable. Later, when autos came in, they were chauffeured by other members of the force.

IN THIS DAY of high costs of education, a college student who comes frequently to mind is a chap who budgeted himself 45 cents a day for meals during the depression of the 1930s.

Every night, he had to spend some time at an observatory making notes of the positions of certain stars or other heavenly bodies. Nowadays, he is a professor of astrophysics and presents scholarly papers at such places as science conference in England and Russia.

THEN THERE was the veteran lineman who proved his ability when a strap broke on one of his climbing hooks when he was up a pole. He simply hopped down the pole with his remaining good spur, much to the surprise of the young bucks in the line gang. He said it was nothing; that in the old days it was commonplace for a lineman to work without a safety belt. He said a lineman hooked a crossarm in his tool belt, went up a pole, hooked a leg around the pole to hold himself and bolted the cross-arm to the pole.

I was never sure whether he was pulling our legs with that tale. But just about anything is possible.

ANOTHER old fellow did not come off so well in our esteem, but he could have been justified in shattering our illusions. He was a sailor and was supposed to be a hold-over from the time when "men were iron and the ships were wood."

He refused to go up a mast because he was not yet officially on the payroll and not covered by compensation. But possibly he had a good point. His name was Nels Nelson, a good name for a sailor.

IT MAY NOT be necessary for teachers to have practical experience in their fields to be good teachers but if they do have the experience it always adds an aura of authority to their teaching. At least that was my impression of two teachers I remember well.

One taught sociology and was a respected expert on juvenile delinquency, having been associated with a state boys reform school. The other was a journalism teacher and had worked for a Hearst paper.

Two fellows I know sometimes work 24 hours a day on 12-hour shifts at different places. Naturally, they grab some sleep now and then but their efficiency is so great when they are awake that people seldom object to their goofing off for naps. They can make up to $25 per 12-hour shift, which nets them $50 a day, before taxes.

There will always be a warm spot in our heart for a state patrolman we saw change a tire for two women who had a flat on a turnpike.

IN OUR hitch-hiking days, we once got a ride from a fellow who said he was a juvenile probation officer in a nearby city. This gave us a momentary shock, but the ride was uneventful, except he was more sympathetic than most drivers and even gave us a candy bar.

With the shoe on the other foot we once picked up a man in a snowstorm and then almost slid through a slope light on the icy pavement. We said, "I hope you are not a policeman because you might give us a ticket."

It was reassuring to hear him reply, "No, I'm a city detective and don't have much to do with traffic but you are doing all right."

Best wishes to these people, wherever they are.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

U.S. Didn't Fight Hungary's Admission to U.N.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

These are days when the national administration talks loudly about "moral issues" as superseding all else, including legal issues.

On the Fourth of July particular Americans speak proudly of the revolution by which they won their freedom. But, oddly enough, the United States government, following the paths of expediency in international affairs, is failing to express a condemnation of the unmorality that prevails among the governments of the world.

Less than a month ago the United States government failed even to cast a ballot when a committee of the United Nations voted to accept the credentials of the Hungarian delegation. This is the first time that the puppet regime in Hungary has been a formal place in the United Nations since the days of the bloody suppression of the Hungarian revolution in 1956 by the Soviet army.

The United States abstained from voting, either fearing to ofpend the Communist-bloc countries or else wishing to see the alleged Hungarian representatives admitted on a parity with those of the free nations of the world, despite the role played by the Soviet dictatorship in Hungary.

The United Nations Charter itself states that the purposes of the organization are opposed to acts of aggression and in favor of the "self-determination of peoples" and a respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms.

UNDER THESE circumstances, it was odd that the United States refrained from even casting a ballot to express its moral indignation.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., in a speech to the Senate, said:

"I can derive no solace from the fact that the United States delegation abstained from voting. Like Pontius Pilate, we gave in to the clamor of the multitude; and, again like Pontius Pilate, we turned our face the other way in the belief that by so doing we could somehow escape responsibility for the consequences of our actions."

"Even if every single member of the credentials committee voted against us, I believe it was our duty to stand on principle and to vote to reject the credentials of the Hungarian delegation."

"I will go further. I believe that it was our duty to carry on a vigorous campaign for the rejection of the credentials of the Hungarian delegation; and I believe that if we had carried on such a campaign, the credentials would not have been approved."

"With our passive acquiescence, the United Nations has, for all practical purposes, closed the book on Soviet aggression in Hungary."

"In doing so, it has written a prescription for the successful defiance of United Nations resolutions."

"It has, in effect, told the Soviet Union and other potential aggressors that, no matter how flagrantly they violate the U. N. Charter, no matter how bloody the aggression of which they are guilty, no matter how many resolutions of condemnation are passed by the General Assembly — all will be forgiven and forgotten at the end of five or six years if the aggressor nation still remains in control of the victim nation at the end of that time."

"Our passivity in this situation is perhaps the inevitable outgrowth of our tragic passivity at the time of the Hungarian revolution. . . ."

"HISTORY HAS already exacted a high price for our 'neutrality' and inaction at the time of the Hungarian revolution — and I'm afraid that we shall have to pay a still higher price before the present decade has run its course."

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, also made a speech in the Senate denouncing the indifference of the American delegation to the United Nations on the Hungarian issue. He said:

"My fear is deep that the abandonment of the cause of the Hungarian patriots in the brave uprising against the Communist dictatorship in 1956 is a course which will be painfully regretted by our country and the people devoted to the West."

"We should not have abandoned the people of the captive nations. Abandoning the Hungarian patriots, as recently evidenced by the United Nations abstaining from a vote on whether the Kadar Communist representatives should officially be recognized by the United Nations, in my opinion is unpardonable. It's a grave mistake. Our State Department has been brainwashed into accepting and approving this course."

ALL THE FOURTH of July speeches refer as a rule to the tyranny which the American colonists faced in 1776 but these exclamations have a hollow sound this year as the United States government, under its present policies, ignores moral issues and, in effect, forsakes the peoples of captive countries — including the patriots in Hungary — who look to the United States to lead a world movement to emancipate them from the yoke of Soviet tyranny.

"It's Just a Little Workout We Have Occasionally"

Conservatives Get Labor's Votes

Soon there will be a general election in Britain. There the issues are clear cut. Despite the fact that the Labour Party is basically a workingman's organization, it has been beaten by the Conservatives in recent elections.

Iain Macleod, chairman of the British Conservative party was asked how it wins labor votes. His answer from London follows.

By IAIN MACLEOD, M.P.
Chairman of the British Conservative Party and its Leader in the House of Commons.

I'm sometimes asked by American friends why such a high proportion of British manual workers and their families support the Conservatives. After all, they say, the Labour party originated from within your trade union movement, and its basic policy is aimed at improving the status of the "working classes"; the very name of your party suggests that you want to conserve the old order of things.

On the face of it, it does seem a bit strange that a political party which has its roots deep in history should not only have survived the upheavals of the past two centuries but succeeded in winning each of Britain's last three elections with greatly increased majorities. This could not, of course, be achieved without the votes of a large section of industrial workers.

WHY HAVE they continued to support the Conservatives? I think there are four main reasons.

First, the party itself has, with occasional lapses, moved with the times and often set the pace of advance; second, we have usually produced good leadership — particularly when the country most needed it.

The third reason surrounds the structure of British society and in the outlook and ambitions of the electorate: the fourth is negative, insofar as it relates to the public image of the Labour party itself.

Let me touch on these points in more detail.

Whatever our name may imply, it is an historical fact that, for well over a century, Conservative governments and parliamentarians have been active in pursuing the cause of social and industrial reform.

A striking testimony to this was paid by James Keir Hardie — one of the great Socialist leaders of the early 20th century, who said:

"As a matter of hard, dry fact, from which there can be no getting away, there is more labour legislation standing to the credit of the Conservative party on the statute book than there is to that of their opponents."

This reference to 19th century legislation is, I think, important. During that critical period of our history Tory reformers were prominent in fighting against the harsh conditions of life created by the industrial revolution and the doctrine of "laissez-faire."

ALL THIS serves to emphasize that "shop-floor" support for the party is not something of recent origin. Within the trade union movement itself there has always been a strong Conservative element; and today, these people are not only numerous, but articulate.

Some hold official posts in their unions and many are elected as shop stewards. They also hold important positions in our party and recently a trade unionist presided over our annual party conference as chairman of our National Union of Constituency Conservative Associations.

Now I turn to what is perhaps the most important single factor in the voting pattern of post-war elections.

Many Americans still think of our British society as one of deep, clear-cut, divisions of class. This image is fast becoming an anachronism.

Indeed, the class structure in Britain today is probably no less flexible than your own.

The changes are, no doubt, due partly to the natural and inevitable processes of evolution; but, in recent years, the fuel has been provided for rapid acceleration.

This "levelling-off" has been almost entirely a "levelling-up," and it has been most marked in people engaged in clerical and administrative work has risen much faster than those engaged in manual work.

Between 1951 and 1961 more than a million new jobs were filled in the professions, insurance, banking, and the distribution trades.

The fathers of many of these people were happy—even proud—to refer to themselves as "working class" and often gave their support to the Socialists as the party dedicated to their interests.

TODAY, HOWEVER, this continued stress on class conflict has lost most of its earlier appeal. Many young people, in particular, see it as an outdated relic of a past age; something which has no place in a modern, free-enterprise society which has brought them new status, new opportunities for advancement and a high degree of prosperity.

Most people recognize that no nation or community can prosper in this day and age unless it is dynamic and forward thinking. Every encouragement has to be given to new thought, new invention and enterprise, and new opportunity for creative work.

We are now in the midst of second industrial revolution and we are determined to grasp the opportunities which it gives us, while at the same time helping individuals to meet the human problems which change brings to them.

In the last few years we have added to our long list of Acts of Parliament designed to improve conditions of work in factory, mine, office and on the land, we are also giving greater security to working people.

Equally important is the re-modeling of the training facilities available both for young people entering industry and for older workers who have to change their jobs and adapt old skills to new processes.

Britain is the world's oldest industrial society; and we who started the industrial revolution have more to unlearn in order to modernize.

This applies as much to attitudes of mind as to material developments. That is why we are paying as much attention to social and human consideration as to material ones.

We have always prided ourselves in being a national party — one which believes that all sections of the community have an important part to play in our national life.

This, in essence, explains why we draw support from all sections of the nation.

History Today

Today is Saturday, July 6th, the 187th day of 1963. There are 178 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1854, the convention of Whigs and Free Soilers at Jackson, Mich., marked the founding of the present Republican party. At the GOP's first convention two years later, John C. Fremont was nominated for president but he was defeated in the election by Democrat James Buchanan.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a heartbroken mother who needs some advice.

Our 21-year-old son is so handsome the movies would be glad to have him. He has been chased by girls since he was 13 and naturally he is a little conceited and spoiled.

Six months ago he started to go steady with a little dried-up peanut whose father is a bus driver. I almost had a heart attack when he brought the girl home to dinner. She didn't say more than four sentences the whole evening. It was, "How do you do? Please pass the salt. May I have another roll?" — and "Thanks for dinner."

Five weeks ago our son told us he and the peanut had to get married right away. What could we say but "Go ahead?"

Last week he announced she had made a mistake and there is no baby on the way. He wants to get out of this marriage and we want to help him get out. We feel he was trapped. What can we do? — MOTHER OF AN HONORABLE BOY.

Dear Mother: No sympathy from this corner, Madame. You sound like a lovely group. I hold no brief for your daughter-in-law but if your son was such an honorable citizen he wouldn't be a candidate for the trap. See your clergyman and a lawyer about the possibility of an annulment.

Summer Boarders

Dear Ann: Once again it's "cot-tage time." Please print this letter. Thousands of wives will be grateful.

Our cottage is our summer home. We welcome friends and relatives for weekends and holidays. We make salads, prepare steaks for barbecue and the bar always is open. We want our guests to relax and enjoy themselves. But why must they be so utterly helpless?

After a swim they walk in, soaking wet, leaving puddles in the hallways, the bathroom and the bedroom. Wet towels are left on the floor or on the beds. They saunter out to get some sun after lunch and when snack time rolls around no one lifts a hand except to reach for the cool drink and the sandwich.

At the end of the summer our friends are all brown as berries and I am as white as a lily. I've spent my entire summer inside — cooking, picking up after people and preparing snacks and drinks. Please tell guests to pitch in and help the hostess. She's — TIED.

Dear Tied: I suggest the hostess give all guests the short course on arrival. And those who don't understand the lesson the first time should not be asked to return.

Ring Finger

Dear Ann: This problem is no big deal but a lot of the kids at school have different ideas on the subject and we would like you to settle it once and for all.

On which finger and on which hand is the high school graduation ring worn? Thank you from all of us — CONFUSED STUDENTS AT CONN. HIGH.

Dear Students: The graduation ring should be worn on the third finger of the right hand.

Ignorance Is Burden

Dear Ann: My husband's mother makes her home with us. She's a pleasant person but in the last year she has failed badly and the doctor says she is suffering from hardening of the arteries. Unfortunately, this is affecting her mind.

Our children who are 8 and 11 years of age have told us that grandma doesn't keep her promises and she then denies ever having made them.

My husband doesn't feel we should burden the children with the facts because they are too young to understand. Also, he fears they may say something which might hurt her feelings.

How should I deal with this? Can you help? — NOT COPING.

Dear Not: Facts about mental illness should be part of the education of all children. Ignorance is the real burden — not facts. If your children are informed properly they will have compassion for their ailing grandmother and will treat her with kindness and understanding.

Columbiana Building Spurts During June

COLUMBIANA — Building permits reached a record high for the month of June, with the mayor's office issuing permits totaling $238,995.

Heading the list was a $139,000 permit issued to the Albin Erickson Co. for the Presbyterian Church for construction of an addition to the church's educational facilities.

Other permits issued were to Donald Felton, $100 permit to build a porch; Robert Bott for Ross Vestal, $14,000, to erect a one-family dwelling; Patricia Stacey, $22,500 to erect a one-family dwelling; Paul Glaser by Mahoning Real Seal, $2,000 to install aluminum siding E. J. Baron, a permit to demolish a building; Everett Warrick, $2,200, to remodel and reside a house and garage; Richard Souder, for Paul Munday, $21,000, to erect a one-family dwelling; Richard Souder, $20,000, to erect a one-family dwelling; Walter Simpson $900, to install aluminum siding; Floyd J. Bower, $14,500, to erect a one-family dwelling; Arnold Bowser for William Stockman, $1,795, to install aluminum siding; and to Ourtle Hall for Philora Cleveland $1,000, to install aluminum siding. Mayor's fines and costs amount-ted to $37.40; ticket money received by Chief McGuckin, $40; 13 building permits totaled $37.50; and 13 inspection fees, $354.61.

A PUBLIC HEARING for the budget of the Columbiana Exempted Village Board of Education will be held at 8 p.m. July 15 at South Side School.

Village residents are invited to inspect the budget on that date.

MARY DREW, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Drew of Canfield Road, and a 1963 graduate of Columbiana High School, was one of 31 recipients presented a scholarship award from the William T. Grant Foundation, Inc., at a luncheon held in Youngstown recently.

Scholarships are awarded annually to employees and their families. Mary's mother, Mrs. Ethel Drew, is an employee of the W. T. Grant store at the Boardman Plaza. The scholarship will include four years at Kent State University, where she will study business education this fall.

Mary was active in the High School Chorus, Future Teachers of America Club, the annual staff, and was co-editor of the school paper. She was a delegate to the Buckeye Girls' State during her junior year, and received a superior rating for her soprano solo during state chorus competition held in the spring.

COLUMBIANA'S NEWEST and largest apartment building will be under construction by Robert Bott, local builder, late this summer, following the completion of financial arrangements.

Construction costs of the proposed "Woodland Apartments" to be located at the corner of S. Main S. and Woodland Ave., will amount to approximately $125,000, with 10 units being included in the "L-shaped" colonial style structure. According to Bott, construction plans will be presented to the planning commission within three weeks.

William L. Poulton of Columbiana and Charles A. Muehleisen of Warren are the architects for the project. Each unit will contain 950 square feet, and include two bedrooms, living room, dinette, kitchen, bath and a utility room.

Nov. 1 has been set as the date Bott also intends to develop a home-site on 40 acres of land located at the south end of S. Main S. in the future.

MOON-BOUND — Hapless fellow above is not about to float away—not quite. Helium-filled balloon he's suspended under lifts five-sixths of his weight, simulating gravity of the moon. It's part of an experiment by Douglas Aircraft to test a man's ability to perform simple manual tasks under the same gravity conditions that astronauts will encounter on the moon.

Bride-elect Honored At Greenford Party

GREENFORD — A kitchen shower was given recently in honor of Miss Beth Linker of Sidney, fiancée of Ronald Kenreich, at the home of Mrs. David Hiner with 20 relatives attending. Hostesses were Mrs. Hiner, Mrs. Fred Clause and Mrs. Urton Anderson. Favors were green and white umbrellas filled with white mints. Games were played and floral centerpieces made by Mrs. Lester Gaver were given as prizes.

Lunch was served by the hostess. Miss Linker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Linker of Sidney. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kenreich of RD 5, Salem. The couple will be married at 3:30 p.m. Aug. 18 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Sidney.

Pet Parade Is Park Event Wednesday

Start grooming your wallabies, agoutis or mongooses (mongoose?), kids. They might win a prize as "most unusual" in the annual pet parade and show Wednesday.

The pet parade and show will be coupled with a decorated bicycle and tricycle contest as the next special event in the summer playground program, supervisor Merlin Davidson announces.

The parade before the judging will form in the alley east of the Memorial building and leave that point at 1:30 p.m. The procession of two- and four-legged creatures will walk, waddle or hop, the luckiest will ride to the Centennial Park basketball court where judges will be assembled.

Miss Virginia Snyder, Mrs. Raymond Stiver and Frank McConnor will have the job of rating the members of the menagerie, which will include the conventional pets such as dogs, cats, and rabbits, birds and turtles and who-knows-what-else.

Davidson says prizes will be given in the following categories, with boys and girls competing in separate classes:

Dogs, smallest, largest and best groomed; cats, smallest, largest, cutest and best groomed; rabbits, smallest, largest, and judges' choice; smallest turtle, largest turtle most attractive aquarium; best cared for bird; most unusual pet; best float with pet.

Children will also be given awards for the best decorated tricycle and best decorated bicycle.

Motorist Is Fined $25 For No Permit

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer fined Clifford Funkhouser, 21, of 251 W. State St., charged with driving without an operator's license, $25 and costs Friday night at a hearing in the mayor's office.

Funkhouser was cited Thursday morning about 4:30 by city police on W. State St. at Jennings Ave. after they watched him cruise twice past the intersection of 2nd and Howard Sts.

The youth had a Pennsylvania driver's license and had been told four times previously to get an Ohio license, police said.

Deaths Funerals

Charles F. Stark

LISBON — Charles F. Stark, 87, of 316 S. Lincoln Ave., died at 6 a.m. today in Salem City Hospital where he was a patient since June 16. He had been ill since December.

He was born March 14, 1876, in Monroe County, a son of James and Elizabeth White Stark. He was a member of the Church of Christ. He retired in 1954 after 22 years with Lisbon Salesbook Co.

Besides his wife, the former Adda Dye, whom he married Dec. 24, 1901, he leaves three daughters, Mrs. Hugh McMasters of Willoughby, Mrs. William Pritchard of Salem, and Mrs. William Prudner of Lisbon; two sons, Irvin of Girard and Forrest of Columbiana 11 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Service will be at 1 p.m. Tuesday at Eells-Leggett Funeral Home where friends may call Monday evening. Burial will be at East Springfield.

U.S. Coast Guard Watching For Spies

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Coast Guard is quietly stepping up defenses along America's coastline against any smuggling of spies, saboteurs and weapons into this country, the New York Journal-American said today.

A Washington dispatch by Ed Edstrom of the Hearst Headline Service said:

"Without fanfare, the Coast Guard has sent out 'Operations Instructions 30-63'. It is addressed to a host of federal and state agencies and sounds an alert against 'clandestine entry of saboteurs and espionage agents and the smuggling of weapons and devices for sabotage, including nuclear or other mass destruction weapons, into the United States from the sea.'"

The newspaper said the order sprang from a sweeping survey ordered by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, under whom the Coast Guard operates in peacetime.

Among other things, instruction 30-63 directs attention to a little-known law that offers a reward up to $500,000 to any citizen who helps catch anyone trying to smuggle in or build an atomic weapon.

The Atomic Weapons Rewards Act, passed at the request of the Justice Department, also gives U.S. sanctuary to any alien revealing such an effort.

ing them from the struggle against the moral enemy of peace — imperialism and old and new colonialism.

"Similarly those who talked about peaceful coexistence being the 'only alternative' . . . were precisely preaching peaceful coexistence between the oppressors and the oppressed."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev's view that communism can be spread without war strikes at the heart of the Soviet-Chinese split. Chinese Communist boss Mao Tse-tung, openly challenging Khrushchev's leadership of the Communist world, sent theorist Teng Hsiao-ping here to press for a tougher line.

The battle in the Soviet-Chinese confrontation over the principles laid down by Vladimir I. Lenin, founder of the Soviet state, could determine the future of hundreds of millions of persons for years to come.

Western observers suspect the Chinese will renew their demand for a worldwide conference of Communist parties to settle the issue. The Soviets oppose such a conference.

With the likelihood of a deadlock in Moscow talks, the Chinese have dared to go directly to the Soviet people with their argument. They distributed leaflets attacking Khrushchev. As a result three Chinese diplomats and two students were expelled from the Soviet Union last week. The Soviets Thursday, accused the Chinese of lying, meddling and aggravating tensions.

At Friday when chief Soviet negotiator Mikhail Suslov met the Chinese delegation at Moscow Airport, there were no Soviet newspaper photographers at the airport.

W. Branch Board To Meet Tuesday

Public hearing and adoption of the new budget for 1964 will be the chief item of business on the agenda for the Tuesday meeting of the Board of Education of West Branch School District. Renewal of an operating levy will also be discussed.

Other items of business include the employment of teachers to fill vacancies, purchasing of tools and student benches for the shop area at the new high school, purchase of chairs for the biology department, action on milk bids, discussion of grading the athletic area and purchase of equipment for the sewing area.

Discussions will also be held on administrative salaries, school buses, fire extinguishers for the new building, hooking up a booster tank, purchase of backstops and scoreboard for the new gym and the parking area.

Proclamation

til such time as freedom and independence shall have been achieved for all the captive nations of the world.

The measure was pointed straight at Russia and her satellites.

Kennedy came through with the annual proclamation Friday night. He invited the American people to observe the week beginning July 14 with appropriate ceremonies and activities and urged them "to give renewed devotion to the just aspirations of all people for national independence and human liberty."

At about the same time, Kennedy's taped-in-advance, sum-up of his trip to Germany, Ireland, Britain and Italy was going to the American people on radio and television.

He said he could report that ties between the people of Europe and the United States are even stronger than they have been in the past, that the trip was a moving experience, and that:

"Today we can be more confident than ever that the old world and the new are partners for progress and partners for peace."

Aside from the flurry of statements, there wasn't much business around the temporary White House.

Kennedy spent a good part of Friday cruising around on land and water. More of that was on tap for today.

He took the wheel of a top-down convertible and drove some of the family around Hyannis and Hyannis Port Friday. Then in the afternoon there was an outing on Nantucket Sound aboard the White House yacht Honey Fitz, winding up with the President's launching of a sleek model sailboat which he received from President Antonio Segni of Italy as a gift for his son, John Jr.

The 2-year-old youngster wasn't invited to the event, but his 5-year-old sister Caroline was fascinated.

private enterprise so that the whole national income will be maintained at the full-employment level."

In June 1948, U.S. employment hit 60 million.

The department said the increase in unemployment from May to June — 800,000 — was accounted for by teen-agers looking for summer work.

The department said there are 1.9 million teen-agers looking for jobs, almost 40 per cent of the unemployed.

Mrs. Oana Invited to White House Parley

Mrs. Mike Oana of Salem, national president of the Amvets Auxiliary, has received a telegram from President Kennedy requesting her to meet with him along with a group of other leaders of women's organizations throughout the country, at the White House at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

They will discuss the Civil Rights issues and problems.

The United States is the world's largest consumer of nickel.

with the exception of two-family units in which the owner occupies one unit and rental of individual rooms in private homes.

Michigan, Rhode Island, Nebraska and Illinois turned down similar proposals.

Bills banning racial or religious discrimination in employment were enacted in Maine and Iowa, placing them among more than 20 states with bans on job discrimination based on race, creed or color.

Maine, New Jersey and Indiana adopted measures dealing with civil rights in general. Maine's change, subject to referendum, would amend the state constitution to forbid discrimination against any person for any reason in the exercise of civil rights.

New Jersey transferred its civil rights enforcement office from the department of education to the attorney general's office. Indiana's two-year-old civil rights commission was empowered to issue cease and desist orders and to back them up with court action.

returned to her home to gather clothes.

The police guard accompanied her, stayed for some time and left when Coleman did not appear, authorities said.

The shootings took place about 5 p.m. Millie Coleman was found in her kitchen while Ruby Coleman was found in the kitchen of her home nearby.

Poice said Coleman also shot his 52-year-old brother, Harry; Le Roy Edwards, 48, a neighbor, and Mrs. Marianna Kube, 29, a visitor in the neighborhood. The men were reported in critical condition at a hospital.

Mrs. Kube was listed as fair. After shooting his wife, sister-in-law and brother, according to police, Coleman entered a car and called over Edwards, also a Negro, and shot him.

Mrs. Kube, who is white, was visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles Kube, when Coleman entered through a side door, police said, the older woman fled up stairs, but her daughter-in-law didn't make it.

Police found Coleman's station wagon abandoned about four blocks away. They said the suspect apparently walked another four blocks and barged in on about eight members of the Kaminsky family.

Michael Kaminski, 22, Mary's brother, told police he returned home with his father at 6 p.m. and found a Negro with blood on his sneakers holding the family at gunpoint.

He said the man stayed until about 9 p.m., and then ordered everyone to shed his belt and shoes and used the laces and belts to bind everybody in the house except Theresa Kaminski, 8.

He demanded the keys to Michael's car and left with Mary who had been bound.

A member of the family said the man was "a perfect stranger." Mrs. J. Nehring, Mary Kaminski's cousin who lives at the same address, called police after returning home and finding the bound family.

Richard and Mille Coleman's four children range in age from 3 to 14 years.

Hutcheson to Seek Township Clerk Post

Richard L. Hutcheson of Salem, Perry Township clerk, filed for re-election today with the county election board.

Hutcheson will be a non-partisan candidate at the Nov. 5 general election.

Washington township trustees also have certified a resolution asking a ballot place for a new 2-mill levy for two years for road maintenance.

The filing deadline for non-partisan candidates for township and school district posts is Aug. 7.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Mother, Fathers and Friends: Bless you all for being just what you are. The world needs you.

But we have other fathers, mothers and friends who are "growing up" to take our places.

We must protect our youngsters and teach them so that they will live. This is your duty! Our duty!

Let's do it together!

Yesterday we put the poisons out of reach of children and their young visitors in our home who just might reach for something . . . not knowing . . .

Here are some more hints to protect your peace of mind.

DO YOU KNOW that when the phone rings, you should take your child with you. It's safer . . . you can see what he is doing.

Accidents never have to happen. Most accidents CAN be prevented. By YOU . . . with your help. And only you can do it.

If a child falls . . . don't always consider it a bump! Watch him. If he gets drowsy, vomits, or bleeds from the mouth, nose or ears, or just wants to sleep, or if he gets numb anywhere . . . call your doctor!

Don't give him anything to eat or drink until you have talked with a doctor.

When someone has fallen and you suspect a broken bone . . . don't move him. Call for expert help . . . a doctor, the police, an ambulance or your local fire department.

Watch your electrical cords and outlets. These are dangerous. don't have a frayed or damaged electrical cord around. For your own safety and good.

DON'T KEEP any electrical gadgets, such as radios, TV (Yes, many people take portable TV's) in the bathroom! Don't try to shave with an electric razor while taking a bath!

Shock is another result of physical injury. Treat this by covering an injured person with a blanket, coat or any clothing you happen to have around. Warmth is most necessary for injured persons.

And bless you all for listening to me preach! I didn't mean to. I just value life so that I thought I should take this day to remind you how valuable it is.

HELOISE

Mind Your Manners

Some persons take television seriously. Continuous chatter during a show annoys.

drowsy afternoon

It is good to lie down on the grass and look up into the sky. Your mind starts to wander—the way it always does when you take the time really to look at it. The heaven is so immense that you can't find a word big enough for it. Those thunderheads, building up in the west—they are so huge that they dwarf the work of man into total insignificance.

The stars are still up there too. We can't see them in the daytime and always this seems strange. But they are just as much there as they are at night—and you don't have to see them to know it.

You don't have to see God either, to know that He's there—though some people seem to feel it's something that has to be proved. They couldn't be more wrong. God's evidence is everywhere. Just walk into a church on Sunday and sit down and listen awhile, and then you will know for sure.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Cleveland Topples League-Leading Yankees 4-1

Lopez Clouts Homer In 7th

Barry Latman Faces Al Downing Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—"That was a pretty good job by a poor little crippled team, wasn't it?"

The man asking the question was smiling — with good reason. Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbets had just watched his Indians topple the New York Yankees 4-1 on Dick Donovan's six-hitter before 27,598 cheering fans Friday night.

Donovan came up with a key double and a single as the Indians collected seven hits off loser Jim Bouton (10-4) and relief hurler Marshall Bridges.

The Indians played like champs, despite their injuries, while the league-leading Yankees played like chumps. Third baseman Clete Boyer made an error to let in one Cleveland run and center fielder Tommy Tresh made a mental boner to permit another marker to cross.

The Yanks were helpless against Donovan's smooth pitching. Donovan, with a 15-12 lifetime mark against them, is one of the few pitchers in the league with a winning record against the perennial champions.

Donovan, now 6-5, has walked only one batter in his last 52 innings. He didn't issue a single pass against the Yanks and struck out three. The shutout was lost in the seventh inning when Hector Lopez homered.

By then the Indians had a 3-0 lead in the third inning and Donovan dumped a pop double to left. Kindall scored on Tito Fracona's sacrifice fly. Donovan was out at the plate on Willie Kirkland's single to right field as Roger Maris uncorked a fine throw.

In the fifth, Al Luplow beat out a roller toward third and Donovan sent him to third with a sharp single to center. Luplow scored on Mike deHoz' double and Donovan scored when Boyer booted Kirkland's grounder.

The Indians' final run crossed in the eighth on daring running by Kirkland. He walked, was sacrificed to second and raced home after John Romano lifted a deep fly to center with one out. Tresh, acting like his catch was the third out, didn't throw quickly.

Barry Latman (5-4) pitches today against Yankee southpaw rookie Al Downing (3-1).

Pukalski Captures Golf Club Tourney

Ed Pukalski took first place in the Flag Tourney when his shot on the 20th hole fell 20 feet from the pin. Competing in Flight A, competition, he also fired a 70 for m-dalist honors at Salem Golf Club Thursday.

Tim Hoppes and Jim Wingard were second and third, respectively, in the "A" unit.

"Soph" Papordis was first in "Flight B." He was followed by Dave Keller and Hank Zimmerman. Bud Schaffer set an unusual round of 56-37-93.

Senators Whip Angels 5-1 For 4th Straight

Tigers Nip A's 4-3; Orioles Split With Twins; Boston Dumps Chicago

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

You can't say much for the way John Wyatt has been pitching lately, but you've got to give the Kansas City reliever credit for versatility.

Big John finds a lot of ways to let the other side's winning run across.

On Friday night the Detroit Tigers beat Wyatt and the Athletics 4-3 with a seventh-inning run produced on a walk, Wyatt's throwing error, a sacrifice and Wyatt's off-target peg to the plate after fielding a grounder.

Lost Thrice Thursday

All this came after Wyatt's horrendous July fourth at Washington, where he balked the deciding run across in one game and walked it across in the other, in the Senators' doubleheader sweep of the A's.

In other American League action Friday night, good-hitting pitchers Dick Donovan and Earl Wilson sparked Cleveland and Boston to victories, left-hander Don Rudolph won for the first time in two months as the Senators kept their mild streak going, and Minnesota pulled out of a slump by gaining a doubleheader split at Baltimore.

Donovan rapped a double and single in the Indians' 4-1 victory over New York's first-place Yankees. Wilson tripled in two runs in a six-run first inning and later added a single as the Red Sox battered the Chicago White Sox 8-3. The last-place Senators won their fourth in a row, 5-1 over the Los Angeles Angels, behind Rudolph's seven-hit pitching. And a flurry of late scoring carried the Twins over the Orioles 7-5 after Baltimore had won the opening game 4-3.

The A's tied Detroit 3-3 in the top of the seventh and Wyatt was sent in to face the Tigers in the bottom of the inning. Bill Freehan drew a leadoff walk, then Wyatt threw wide to second trying for a Lohich's bunt. The runners were sacrificed along and Freehan scored the deciding run when Wyatt picked up Dick McAuliffe's roller to the mound and threw high and wide to the plate.

The victory was Detroit's fourth in a row and the loss was the A's fourth straight.

Donovan smacked a double in the third inning against loser Jim Bouton, helping the Indians to their first run, then singled and scored in the fifth, when Cleveland made it 3-0. The right-hander held the Yanks to six hits, including Hector Lopez' seventh-inning homer.

Despite the loss the Yankees stayed 4½ games in front, with the Twins taking over second by two percentage points over the White Sox.

Wilson's tremendous triple climaxed the Red Sox' opening inning outburst against White Sox starter Dave DeBusschere. Pete Ward homered for Chicago in the fourth and Wilson gave up two more runs in the seventh, but went all the way with a nine-

Giants Hand Cards 6th Loss In Row 6-5; Dodgers Blank Cincinnati 1-0

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Chuck Hiller was hitting .185. Jim Duffalo hadn't won since the third day of the season.

Together they gave San Francisco a 6-5, 11-inning victory over St. Louis Friday night, becoming the latest members of a growing group giving the Cardinals the bird in the National League pennant scramble.

Hiller slapped a single in the 11th to drive in the tie-breaking run while Duffalo staggered through two innings of relief pitching—despite issuing four walks—to post his first victory since April 10 and send the Cardinals' down to their sixth consecutive loss.

Fall From 1st To 4th

A week ago, the Cardinals were on the top perch, 1½ games in front. Now they've dropped to fourth place, 3½ games back of the pacesetter Los Angeles Dodgers, who whipped Cincinnati 1-0 on Frank Howard's homer and two-hit pitching by Johnny Podres.

The Chicago Cubs, three games behind the Dodgers, too over second place with a 3-2, 11-inning decision over Philadelphia. Houston defeated Milwaukee 4-2 and Pittsburgh handed the New York Mets their eighth loss in a row, 3-1.

The third-place Giants' climaxed an uphill struggle when Hiller singled off loser Ed Bauta, 3-3, following a leadoff single by Jose Pagan and a sacrifice. Willie McCovey's two-run homer, his 21st, had provided a 4-3 lead in the fifth, but the Giants needed Harvey Kuenn's ninth-inning run-producing single to tie the Cardinals and send it into extra innings. Bill White homered for St. Louis.

Howard Homers For L.A.

Howard's 13th homer, off Jim O'Toole in the seventh inning, brought Podres' record to 6-6. In his last two starts, Podres has allowed only seven hits and one run, striking out 16 while issuing only two walks. Against the Reds, Podres allowed only singles by Tommy Harper in the fourth and Johnny Edwards in the sixth and kept Cincinnati from getting a runner to second base. O'Toole touched for six hits, lost his third in a row and is 13-6.

The Cubs won in the 11th when Ernie Banks doubled, took third on a wild pitch by Johnny Klippstein and scored on Andre Rodgers' sacrifice fly. Ron Santo singled home the tying run for Chicago after the Phillies moved ahead 2-1 on Ruben Amaro's homer, the first for the .170 hitter since 1961. Lindy McDaniel, 5-2, was the winner in relief of Larry Jackson. Klippstein is 3-4.

Ford's 210 Leads Keiser, Fleck By 2 Strokes In Canadian Open

TORONTO (AP) — Life really doesn't begin at 40 for professional golfers but you can't prove it in this 54th Canadian Open championship. The slick young upstarts may as well forget about the $9,000 first-place money.

The elderly brigade has taken over and the instigator is Doug Ford of Yonkers, N.Y., who brushes aside his 41st birthday next month. Nudging him for the big payday is 41-year-old Jack Fleck of Los Angeles and the 48-year-old Herman Keiser of Burtonton, Ohio, who would just as soon fish as golf these days.

The amiable, fast-playing Ford, who admitted he "played lousy and putted worse" in his third round, heads into the final 18 to-day with a 54-hole total of 210. That's three under par over the wind-whipped suburban Scarborough course that has the young set stymied.

Two strokes behind are Keiser and Fleck. None of this three-some contributed anything spectacular in Friday's third round—Ford and Keiser each posted three-over-par 74s and Fleck an even-par 71—but of the 87 starters only six were able to break par over the windy 6,738-yard layout.

The three at the top said they played a "lousy game." They opened the door for the younger hotshot players to walk through and put up a challenge for today's final 18, but only two—30-year-old Dan Keefe of Wayland, Mass., and 32-year-old Moe Norman of Toronto—could take advantage of it and move into serious contention.

Keefe came in with a two-under 69 to go with 71-73 rounds for a 213 total, to go into a fourth-place tie with Norman who plays every shot as if it were his last.

Norman shot his third consecutive 71 in a weird round that saw him make the turn in two-over-par 38 on five bogeys, three birdies and one par.

Another four were tied at 214: George Knudson of Toronto, Jerry Barber and Charlie Siford of Los Angeles and Bill Eggers, Henderson, Nev.

One thing appears certain. Defending Champion Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., won't step forward to accept the $9,000 first-place money. He has never been in serious contention with rounds of 74-73-77. At 224, he can hope only to salvage some of the lesser prize money.

Parachute Jump Slated

The Alliance Sport Parachute Club will hold a jump at the old Martin Airport on Route 62 two miles northeast of Canton Sunday from 9 a.m. until dark.

Members of the Cleveland, Akron, Dayton, Youngstown and Pittsburgh clubs will be present to make at least 100 jumps.

Jay Hill, Vic Mattevi of Lisbon, and Bob Snyder of Washingtonville will also be participating in the event.

Paul Birtalan, a pilot for one of the two airplanes to be used, said "the public is welcome to watch."

McKinley Outclasses Stolle For Wimbledon Tennis Title

By GEOFFREY MILLER

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Former Wimbledon tennis champions joined today in praising Chuck McKinley, first American to win the men's title in eight years as Billie Jean Moffitt went out to try to complete a U.S. sweep of the singles.

The acrobatic star from San Antonio, Tex., crushed Australia's Fred Stolle 9-7, 6-1, 6-4 in the final Friday. He went through the tournament without losing a set.

McKinley's win ended the domination of Wimbledon by the Austrians, who had won the men's title seven times in the previous eight years.

The exception was 1959, when Alex Olmedo of Peru was champion.

Tony Trabert, the last American to win the title, in 1955, said: "McKinley was great. This is a fine thing for American tennis. He is a worthy champion."

It took McKinley 35 minutes to make any real impression on Stolle, a lanky man with one of the biggest services in the game. McKinley got his first service break in the 15th game, and from then on the Australian was tamed. Stolle admitted afterwards that in the last set he didn't know how to serve because he could never tell what McKinley would do next.

Miss Moffitt, 19-year-old girl from Long Beach, Calif., faced Australia's Margaret Smith.

Billie Jean, unseeded, has fought to the women's final by beating three seeded stars—Lesley Turner of Australia, Maria Bueno of Brazil and Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones of Britain.

Old Dutch Blanks Pops Igloo 8-0. Gold Bar Wins

Panzott Hurls 3rd One-Hitter As Merchants Post 8-0 Victory

Bill Panzott came up with his third one-hit pitching performance of the season as Salem Merchants blanked Charley's Boats 8-0 in City Softball League action at Kelley Field Friday night.

Class AA leader Old Dutch, behind the two-hit pitching effort of Bill Herman shutout Pops Igloo 2-0, and Gold Bar, which is No. 1 in the Class A division, whipped Conser Construction 12-2.

TONIGHT'S ACTION finds Alliance in a skirmish against Parker Chevrolet at 6:30 p.m.; Bliss battles Pops Igloo at 7:45 p.m.; and Old Dutch takes on Charley's Boats at 9 p.m.

Gold Bar meets Parker Chevrolet and Moose in a twin bill at 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. respectively Sunday.

Panzott's bid for a no-hitter last night was ruined by Paul Herman who hit a single in the fourth. The winning hurler struck out seven and walked two.

The Merchants took a 6-0 lead in the initial inning on four errors, a walk, fielder's choice and singles by George Alek, Panzott, Jerry Jeffries and "Boss" Wright. Jeffries and Panzott had two hits apiece to spark the winners.

THE MERCHANTS moved into a two-way tie for second place in the Class AA standings with Step-anic's. Both teams have 10-4 reords and trail Old Dutch which sports a 10-3 mark.

Old Dutch took a 2-0 lead in the first frame on a walk, two fielders' choices and doubles by Jim Barnes and Ken Schoeni. The winners added their final tally in the third on a single by Dick Youngpeter and another double by Schoeni.

Losing nurler Larry Bowersock and Frank Woolfe were the only Pops Igloo batters to get hits off Herman who struck out 13. The losers have a 1-15 record in the Class A loop.

Gold Bar took advantage of errors and walks to chalk up seven runs in the first two innings, then coasted to its 11th win in 14 starts this season.

Larry Moulin collected two hits to pace the winners. Singles by Ken McLemore and Sonny Russell and a double by Ray Crosser gave the losers two runs in the bottom of the seventh.

23 Rookies Set For Browns Training Session At Hiram

A group of some 23 rookies is expected to be on hand when the Cleveland Browns' three-day rookie camp opens at Hiram College Thursday, July 11. Regular training sessions begin July 22.

Two of the Browns' top freshmen, first draft choice Tom Huh-rlinson and second choice Jim Kanicki, will miss the camp to start training with the College All-Stars in Chicago.

Both will be in town the first three days of the week to go over play books with Blanton Collier who'll be making his Hiram debut as head coach of the team he's served nine years as an assistant.

Basically, this pre-training meeting is to familiarize rookie quarterbacks and receivers with the intricate pass patterns of professional football and give them some of the basic Browns fundamentals before the regulars arrive.

Key men in the group will be quarterback hopefuls John Anabo of Fresno State and Gerry Gross of Detroit University.

Ken Webb, veteran back obtained in an offseason trade, will also attend the camp to begin familiarizing himself with the Browns' system.

Other rookies expected include: Bob Altman, Wisconsin; Frank Baker, Toledo; Walter Beach, Central Michigan; Larry Benz and Dennis Thomas, Northwest-ern; George Boudrowski, Memphis State; Jim Bobbitt, Michigan State; Bob Butts, Terry Hansley and Dave Katerhenrich, Ohio State; Gerry Craft and John Gardner, Oklahoma State; Tom Goosby, Georgia; Gary Marinovich, Santa Monica; Clifton McNeil, Grambling; Stan Sczurek, Purdue; Ralph Sheffield, St. Joseph's Prep; Gary Sherman, Bowling Green; Roger Shoals, Maryland; and Art Smith, Virginia Tech.

Bill Crays Fires 113 In Putting Tournament

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three hundred contestants try to overtake first-round leader Bill Crays of Indianapolis today and survive the cutoff in the $50,000 National Putting Championship.

Crays, a 28-year-old postman, had 3 aces in carding a 113 total for 72 holes Friday. Each hole in the tournament is a par two.

The field will be cut to the low 120 scorers after today's 72 holes, and the finalist will pay 72 holes Sunday. First prize is $10,000.

Gruber Wins 50-Lap Kart Race At Guilford

Dave Gruber of Lisbon took first place in the 50-lap race held by the Screaming Eagles Kart Club at Guilford Lake Thursday.

The winning time for the event was one hour and two minutes. John Arter of Lisbon placed second. Both boys are 14 years old.

Famous Market Rallies to Trim CIO 3816

Mullins Upsets Elks In Class F League

Mullins provided Class F with its biggest upset of the season by knocking off league-leading Elks 13-10 in a Salem junior baseball contest at Memorial South Friday.

Shaffer Ford scored in every inning to beat Fisher News 26-15 at Memorial North.

Famous Market rallied in the sixth inning for five runs to down CIO 3816 11-8 in a Class E game at Centennial North.

National Dry Cleaners scored its winning run with two out in Italian Club 14-13, at Centennial Knights of Columbus 5-1 at Memorial West in Class G competition.

CIO 1538 handed Cherry Hill its 11th straight loss 22-11 at Reilly Field and Ailes Insurance knocked off Moose Lodge 11-5 at Buckeye Field in Class H action.

MULLINS SCORED all its runs in the first two innings, chalking up nine in the bottom of the first on a walk, three errors, a hit batter, four singles and a double by Brook Scott.

Bob Briskin got credit for the winning. He relieved Scott, who had a double and two singles, in the first inning and held the losers to five hits.

John Paul Tolson hurled hitless ball the last four frames for the Elks. He struck out nine and didn't walk a batter. Scott Thompson and Greg Cline had two hits apiece.

Shaffer scored eight runs in the first three frames, then added eight more in the fourth and 10 in the sixth. Fisher News rallied for 11 runs in the top of the seventh.

WINNING PITCHER Don Wolfgang and Roger Bowman hit home runs for the winners. Ralph Gabriel had a triple and three singles to pace Shaffers, which collected a total of 19 hits.

Lou Markovich collected two hits to spark Fisher News.

League leading Famous Market picked up its seventh victory in eight starts in the Class E bracket.

The winners broke a 6-6 tie in the sixth with a five run rally on two walks, an error, a fielder's choice, single, double by Gary Cosgrove and a home run by Dick Wilt. Jim Hammond hit a home run in the four-run third frame.

Ron Parolantier and Bob Luttermeier collected two hits each for CIO 3816.

Dave Shasteen walked and scored on a force out to give National Dry Cleaners its victory. He, Robert Richards and Walter Simpson had two hits apiece to pace the winners.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Our neighbors next door have their new dairy bar open and ready to serve you.

Fritz Mullen as you know is the operator of the Shell service station. His wife, Jane, is running the dairy bar.

They are both very nice people to deal with and they would appreciate any business you might give them.

I have enjoyed a treat over there every day since they opened when I was around here. They are using Superior Dairy products.

Beloit Man Delegated As Presidential Guard

BELOIT — Thomas Dorsey, son of Mrs. Ardena Dorsey, has returned to Milden Hall Air Force Base in London, England after being chosen, along with four other airmen, to serve as an honor guard for President Kennedy during his recent visit to Berlin.

Dorsey spent eight days at Rhine Main Air Force Base in Germany while participating in the President's parade and other activities. He has recently been promoted to Airman 2C.

Mrs. Dorsey recently received a letter of appreciation from the Squadron Commander commending her son, A 3C James Dorsey for good behavior and outstanding work in using his off-duty hours to complete studies toward attaining his high school diploma, which he has now received.

Dorsey, who is now spending a leave with his mother following a 15-month tour of duty in Goose Bay, Labrador will report to Mountain Home AFB in Idaho, July 17.

REV. AND MRS. STEPHEN Lambright of Long Beach, Miss. are visiting Rev. and Mrs. Charles Matti.

Rev. and Mrs. Lorin Heacock of Marysville have returned home after visiting with Mrs. Rachel Cattell and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heacock. The visitor was honored at the home of Mrs. Cattell and by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heacock with Mrs. Cattell as dinner guest.

Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Milvin Heacock of Sebring, Rev. Stephen Lambright of Long Beach, Miss., Rev. Charles Matti and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sams. Mrs. Roger Brotherton of Minerva spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles McNatt following her return from a year spent in Stuttgart, Germany.

MR. AND MRS. BLAINE Springer were honored on their silver anniversary when members of the family gathered at their home with Miss Edith Springer and Mrs. Leonard Rigney as hostesses.

Rusty Needle Sewing Club met with Mrs. Thomas Herren. Each member displayed a novelty hat. Barbara Herren presented piano selections and the special prize went to Mrs. Jay Sheely.

Mrs. Oscar Mangus will receive the group July 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Turner visited at Cedar Point. They were accompanied by Mary Carnes and Roy Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoy Smith have gone to Los Angeles, Calif., where they will make their home.

Ruritan Club members and their wives and families will hold a picnic at the Beloit Park Wednesday with members of the Beloit Fire Dept. and their wives as guests.

7:30 — Ch. 3, Sam Benedict: A racketeer returns to town with a lot of money and a beautiful wife.
